Parties:
Chad Daybell
Emma Murrary
Detective Wheeler

EMMA MURRAY: Hi, dad. They said I could come talk with you and I didn't want you to be alone. I love you so much.

CHAD DAYBELL: I love you. I'm glad you came over.

EMMA MURRAY: I thought they had taken you downtown already.

CHAD DAYBELL: No, I got about to the Fremont County line.

EMMA MURRAY: [?] saw us as soon as you left [?] chased you down and then he came back. [?]

CHAD DAYBELL: Just concerning the car...

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Huh?

CHAD DAYBELL: I know they...

EMMA MURRAY: I can ask them about it.

CHAD DAYBELL: Just about the car...

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Oh. We'll take care of the car. We're gonna take it and then –

CHAD DAYBELL: Is she able to get it?

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Yeah, you'll get it back. We may have to go through the car because you were arrested in it.

CHAD DAYBELL: Right.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Some things we gotta do. But then –

CHAD DAYBELL: She can have her bananas and her –

EMMA MURRAY: [laughs] I gave him some food.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Better get the car back before it spoils. [laughs]

EMMA MURRAY: You can eat it. [laughs]

CHAD DAYBELL: [laughs] So, Eric... [?] So, like, my wallet... Will that be able for her to pick up? Or could I turn it over to her right now?

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Is that in the car or is that here?

CHAD DAYBELL: It's right here.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: It's up to you. I don't see... Can I look through it just to make sure?

CHAD DAYBELL: Sure.

EMMA MURRAY: [?] going to get Mark.

CHAD DAYBELL: Lisa? [laughs]

EMMA MURRAY: [laughs] No Seth and Garth.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Is there anything you're going to need in that?

CHAD DAYBELL: Well, she'll be running my finances I suppose. So... That has a little money on it. You could –

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Okay. So these are credit cards. So you're good if she just takes them.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: Correct?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. Um, in the middle drawer on the left side in Mark's room, there's about $90,000[*1] in two white envelopes.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

[1] Possibly $9,000, not $90,000. It appears Daybell's mouth is still moving after the "nine" sound, making it sound closer to "ninety" but it could also be a very drawn out slower "nine". Nate Eaton's notes have $9,000 and he is in the courtroom.

CHAD DAYBELL: Um. So, get that. Yeah. So... We'll talk more about the car payments and stuff but, you have that password?

EMMA MURRAY: I do.

CHAD DAYBELL: I believe the Hawaiian...

EMMA MURRAY: That's this one?

CHAD DAYBELL: First Hawaiian Bank. If you use that same password for this account, it's Chad Daybell. Um, what else [?] This has nothing on it. Like 6 dollars. That, [?]. So this. Okay. In that same drawer. I think I grabbed it. Is a piece of this that was put in here and it's got the company card, company business card. And, so just make sure you get that. Um.

EMMA MURRAY: And this is all in Mark's room?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. I put that in there. There's a, like, a pamphlet with a guy sitting in a car. It's for the Wells Fargo auto loan.

EMMA MURRAY: That's the loan for the Equinox?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. And so, that, we'll talk about it. So if you go to Telmate, this is the card that's used. Okay. And so all you really do, you could probably just sign in as chad.daybell or start your own.

EMMA MURRAY: I have an account that I've been talking with Lori on.

CHAD DAYBELL: Okay. But you could use this card –

EMMA MURRAY: – to add money to it?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. And to her if needed.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: So, yeah she'll need to still have commissary money. Usually puts $30 a week in there. So. And you can probably talk to her too.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: (I'm sorry honey/Emma) OR (Don't cry honey/Emma)

EMMA MURRAY: I love you so much.

CHAD DAYBELL: I love you. Cooperate with them as much as you feel, you know what I mean?

EMMA MURRAY: They've been kind to us today. I texted John Prior so he has my number. He said thank you.

CHAD DAYBELL: Okay. A lot of the company stuff that pays for the house should just autopay still out of that company account. I left $5,000 in there. Any other questions you have?

EMMA MURRAY: I think, well it sounds like you're not gonna be out for a little while.

CHAD DAYBELL: Right.

EMMA MURRAY: My landlord texted me just to feel bad for me. I think I'm gonna come over here.

CHAD DAYBELL: That's what I need you to say, 'cause yeah, you and Joe. I mean, whatever Mark wants to do, he should stay with you here.

EMMA MURRAY: [?] care of Mark. I'll take care of Seth, Garth. I will dad.

CHAD DAYBELL: I know.

EMMA MURRAY: And he'll take care of me. And we'll take care of you the best we can. Sorry to interrupt.

CHAD DAYBELL: So, keep paying the mortgage out of the company.

EMMA MURRAY: Is it on autopay?

CHAD DAYBELL: No, you can probably set it up, though.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: Um, I'm trying to – It's a Wells Fargo. In that same pamphlet? I don't know the password, but–

EMMA MURRAY: I'll look, but I've had a lot of success with mom's stuff. Just saying, “will you help me? My mom died.” [laughs] I'm pretty sure “will you help me? My dad's in jail” has the same effect.

CHAD DAYBELL: It should be paid through July 1st.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: And I think the car is paid through July 15th. So, you shouldn't have any bills to worry about... Um. Yeah, I'm not coming back. So, all that stuff that's in the baby room is Lori's and mine. The suitcases, you'll see. You know, the box. Just put it in the garage, I guess.

EMMA MURRAY: Store it and see what happens.

CHAD DAYBELL: You guys can... Yeah, take that mattress from upstairs, I guess, do what you want. Put the books back in the shelf. We're gonna make it through. I'm glad we could talk. I'm glad they let you come over.

EMMA MURRAY: I started crying and Lieutenant Ball said do you wanna talk to him, and I was like, can I? He said he's just over there. I was like oh, that changes things. You probably saw us out there.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah, I was watching. Well, hopefully things will slow down for you guys. You'll get left alone. But, yeah, if they'll let you move out of there. You just get over here. And Garth, I still feel bad–

EMMA MURRAY: That's what the spirit was telling me but I didn't know how it would all, I felt like I needed to learn more and now I get it.

CHAD DAYBELL: So, yeah, this is essentially your house and. We'll talk to John Prior about the financial arrangements, but you should be fine for a while.

EMMA MURRAY: I think long enough to get on our feet?

CHAD DAYBELL: I have a lot in that account with the other attorneys, so that will take care of you for while. And maybe we just do a refinance on the house or a home equity loan.

EMMA MURRAY: Does it– What do you mean?

CHAD DAYBELL: I don't think it's going to break us. I think that might be an option there. I might need to authorize putting you on the mortgage.

EMMA MURRAY: On the account with you? And just probably leave Joe off it?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. Yeah, keep me on it with you and–.

EMMA MURRAY: Can you have accounts like that when you're in jail?

CHAD DAYBELL: I don't know. [laughs]

EMMA MURRAY: [laughs] I guess this is the part you get [?] someone else involved.

CHAD DAYBELL: Well, it's technically Spring Creek Book Company's office, so you can... We'll manage it that way [?].

EMMA MURRAY: And you have a – you can send things through Amazon for the jail?

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah.

EMMA MURRAY: But like, I couldn't send you a package, but Amazon, if I ordered it through there, it could get to you.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah.

EMMA MURRAY: I'll only do that as you ask for stuff.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. Lori would know the Amazon account. [laughs]

EMMA MURRAY: I'll talk to her.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah. Because I have like $265 or so in there as gift certificates. So don't pay.

EMMA MURRAY: Yeah I won't.

CHAD DAYBELL: We'll get it figured out. It's like cholo1105, the same as, it was elena, @icloud.com I believe was the password. I don't know. I don't know what they're gonna do with the computers. You could probably... It wasn't part of the search warrants.

EMMA MURRAY: Do you know are they leaving the computers?

CHAD DAYBELL: Well, they were in my bag. They were in the car.

EMMA MURRAY: They were in the car with him.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: We'll probably hold onto those and we'll probably have to get a warrant.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay, but things that are currently in the house will likely be left.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: I don't know what they're gonna take out of there.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: When we clear from here, whatever's in there. It'll be left.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: I talked to them and told them the bedrooms and to not mess it up. And they didn't seem like they were going to Luminol at all.

EMMA MURRAY: Okay.

CHAD DAYBELL: But yeah, get Garth and Seth moved. And you guys come over here. It'll work out. It's all going to work out. It'll work. It's all in the Lord's hands.

EMMA MURRAY: I love you so much.

CHAD DAYBELL: We'll talk. Use– Use that Telmate. I don't know if I'm in Madison or Fremont. I think they're deciding that right now.

EMMA MURRAY: That's what it sounded like. Detective Ball, or Lieutenant Ball, wouldn't say because he didn't know.

CHAD DAYBELL: I'm sure Fremont has a Telmate system, so.

EMMA MURRAY: Well, at Fremont, when I went in to get fingerprinted to teach, I was like in there, like in the jail. I was like, in my, like, teacher clothes as this little recent grad. So I don't know what they do.

CHAD DAYBELL: Sorry, all the neighbors are going to be talking.

EMMA MURRAY: They already are. We're okay, Dad. We're okay. You raised us, so we're independent now. With your wallet.

CHAD DAYBELL: I'm glad you've got that.

EMMA MURRAY: We're not Colby.

CHAD DAYBELL: Right. Get that money out of there, probably just put it in your own personal account rather than have the cash laying around. Will you need some -

EMMA MURRAY: I think they've been okay. They've been talking with her. I might not tell Joe about it either.

CHAD DAYBELL: About the money?

EMMA MURRAY: Yeah. I have an account that's just in my name. I'm just gonna put it in there and wait.

CHAD DAYBELL: Well, Garth knows about the money.

EMMA MURRAY: Well Garth doesn't spend as frivolously as Joe.

CHAD DAYBELL: The checkbooks are in that drawer, too, if needed, but you shouldn't need them. If at some point you feel you need to clear out the whole account or something. You can check my email– They've got my computer, but my email, my Rexburg password is pretty much everything. For the bank, for my email. Cholo1105 but but I think I switched all of those. Yeah, I talked to Lori for like two minutes, so she's aware they were searching.

EMMA MURRAY: Was she surprised?

CHAD DAYBELL: She seemed bothered or disturbed, I mean, yeah but um. Yeah. I'll be fine.

EMMA MURRAY: I don't know what they told you, because I asked Lieutenant Ball, “where did you find the human remains?” – that's what they told me. Because they found human remains, I said, “there's several dogs that have been buried there” and he said, “respectfully, um I can tell the difference with human remains.” And I asked, “where was it?” And he said, “over by the pond under that tree, and it was in the ground and had boards over it.” But that, that didn't – Jace and I have walked all over, over there. That, as I can see in your face, surprised you, because they asked, “do you want to know what he's charged for?” And then they went, “well actually we don't, they said we don't want to tell you something wrong.”

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah I don't know what they're gonna charge me with. They're probably gonna.

EMMA MURRAY: And so, he told me that the, what they're looking at is that they found one body with the probable cause there's likely two, so I asked, “are you going to search the property forever until it's found?” And he said, “well, no, but we're going to look.” And he said – because I said, “what about, this is the home for my siblings and there's a baby” – and he said, “if you're not able to get back in tonight we'll hook them up with a hotel.” He said, “you're not in trouble.”

CHAD DAYBELL: I think they'll let them back. There's nothing in the house. They haven't focused on the house at all.

EMMA MURRAY: They've kind of been looking in it, in the yard.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah I mean, when Mark gets back.

EMMA MURRAY: I think we're okay coming over. We just have to have law enforcement escort us onto the scene.

CHAD DAYBELL: We'll make it through.

EMMA MURRAY: Mark deals with trauma weird, he just acts vaguely unimpressed. So I called him and said dad got arrested and he said, well, I guess I should go home. Yeah Mark, you should.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah, you don't need to go home yet.

EMMA MURRAY: I don't want to. Joe is home. He's home and he has Jace. Garth and Seth went in Garth's car to pick up Mark.

CHAD DAYBELL: Yeah just let Mark use the Equinox, however you rearrange the cars. But it's all a matter of timing, it's soon to come together. But, I love you.

EMMA MURRAY: I love you very much. Thank you for letting me speak with him.

DETECTIVE WHEELER: You're welcome.

CHAD DAYBELL: Just yes, (at this point/just wanna) Telmate, if I'm available to talk, we can talk. Thank you. Love you.

EMMA MURRAY: Love you dad.
