MAC PIZZA

READING REWARD PARTIES

HOW IT WORKS

Children complete reading assignments set by their teachers, which may involve reading a certain number of books or reading for a specific amount of time. Successful completion earns them a free pizza demonstration and snack. Parents are welcome to attend!

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM US

- We coordinate dates with libraries or schools, ensuring they suit both educational schedules and pizza stores schedules.
- The hosting store provides raw pizza dough, cornmeal for tossing, and a fun team to engage with the children.
- We emphasize the importance of reading while having fun.
- Kids can ask questions, play with dough, and some may even get to try tossing it.
- Pizza is delivered at the end, with each child receiving a slice.
- We accommodate dietary or religious restrictions on toppings and provide additional promotional items.
- Librarians can select kids for dough tossing based on need for encouragement or reward.

WHAT WE NEED FROM YOU

- Provide estimated number of kids for setup purposes when scheduling dates; no personal information required.
- Email a more accurate attendee count one week before the pizza show.
- Supply paper plates and beverages.
- Set up one or two 6-foot tables near the front of the room for the pizza demonstration.
- Ensure kids sit on the floor with a 3-foot walkway for safety.
- Prepare for cornmeal on the floor and dough on children's hands; provide sanitizer and trash cans.
- Choose a large room with tile or linoleum floors ideally; use Kraft paper or plastic to protect carpets.
- Set up another table for food distribution; seating usually on the floor.

WHAT'S THE CATCH?

"Why do we offer this for free? What's the catch?" This question comes up often! Your patronage isn't necessary to arrange this. While we appreciate your business, our aim is to ignite excitement for reading and education in kids. We explain the importance of reading and share our own experiences in the business. Some of these children may become our future employees, so investing in their education is beneficial for all. It's a win-win situation for libraries, schools, and Domino's! And as you'll see, it's a lot of fun! We're grateful for the chance to serve you and the community!
